WITH MONSTER FARE.

Sch. Raymah First of Cape North Shack Fleet Is Home.

Capt. Hogan Estimates Catch at 190,000 Pounds Fresh Cod.

Sch. Raymah, Capt. Felix Hogan, arrived at this port this forenoon, with a monster fare of fresh codfish. The craft is full, except for one slaughter house, and her trawls are stowed in the cabin and on deck, to make room for fish in the hold. Capt. Hogan estimates that he has between 180,000 and 190,000 pounds of fresh codfish.

The craft is the first of the so called "Cape North" shackers to arrive home this season, only Capt. Hogan reports getting but few of his fish there. He baited at the Magdalenes, being one of the early ones of the fleet there, and then came down to Cape North, where some fish were found, but they were very small.

Off Scatteri some of the vessels picked up some fish as long as the ice held, but when it went, the fish apparently went with it. This then brought the most, indeed about all the shackers, on the Cape North ground, the vessels working on the small fish, hoping for the expected school of large ones to strike.

Capt. Hogan decided not to wait, but to find another fishing spot, and in company with sch. Maggie and May kept off, leaving the rest there. He went to the grounds off Cape Smoke, C. B., but sch. Maggie and May did not come there.

Three or four days of bad weather at the start there did the Raymah's bait no good, but finally they got a chance to set and found the biggest kind of fishing.

They got so many fish on deck on one set that a breeze which sprang up afterward washed some of them overboard before they could be dressed. Bad weather again held them back and then they got two or three days in succession and the good fishing continued, and hauls of 30,000 pounds a day were made on two days. The bait was now getting quite old and the fishing began to fall off, but still some fish were taken.

After leaving the grounds here, the Raymah had a set off Scatteri and got about 18,000 pounds of codfish, so Capt. Hogan thinks that the fish that left there when the ice did may have struck back again.

Capt. Hogan reports speaking schs. Onata and Illinois, the latter having about 30,000 pounds of salt cod. He also saw Capt. William Doyle and heard that some of the shackers were trying to get some salt from the salt bankers so as to salt their first catches and stay around Cape North and that vicinity, hoping for good fishing later. He also spoke sch. Susan and Mary, Capt. George Tufts, who had struck fair fishing at the start off Scatteri, and had 40,000 pounds of salt cod on board.

Halibut Sales.

The fare of sch. Theodore Roosevelt sold to the American Halibut Co. yesterday at 10 1-4 cents per pound for white and 7 cents for gray.

Today, under the pressure of four trips, the halibut market took an expected drop. The fare of sch. Monitor sold to the New England Fish Co. and those of schs. Preceptor and Agnes sold to the American Halibut Co., each at 10 cents per pound for white and 5 1-2 cents for gray.

MAKING MONEY VERY FAST.

Sch. Sadie M. Nunan's Crew Have Shared Over $1000

IN LESS THAN NINE MONTHS.

Men of Pollock Steamer Dolphin Share $275 in Three Weeks.

The record of the shore market fishing fleet for the past nine months is undoubtedly held by sch. Sadie M. Nunan of Cape Porpoise, Me., and commanded by Capt. Frank A. Nunan of that place.

During the winter, the big trips which this craft has landed at T wharf and the fine prices she has struck has been a matter of comment in fishing circles, so it is no surprise to hear from Capt. Nunan that he thinks his craft is high line of the market fleet to date.

The Nunan started in operations September 20, and from then up to yesterday has secured the fine stock of $27,012.31, while the crew has made the remarkable amount of $1025.88 to a man. The vessel has carried 13 single dories and 16 men all the season.

To share over $1000 in going fishing less than nine months is certainly exceptional work, and Capt. Nunan deserves all the credit and honors that this big work implies. He has always been a hustler and is never far from the head of the procession.

They tell of him that he has a spot of his own down off Cape Porpoise somewhere. That, of course, is a joke, but he certainly does know where to pick up the hake when they are at the top notch price at T wharf, or to lure the haddock from the bottom when they are flirting around the $5 mark. He is a hard working, quiet master mariner and deserves every bit of his success.

Pollock, that is, round fresh pollock have been bringing anywhere from 90 cents to $1.10 per hundred weight during the past month. At these figures which are not large, but still are extra good compared to what has been paid for these fish in previous years, it does not seem possible to make any too much money, yet it is a fact that in the past month the crews of some of the little gasoline boats have made more money than any of the whole fleet of seiners, with one exception, up to date.

Many of them have made over $200 to a man and some have topped $225, but the high line banner is claimed by an East Boothbay gasoliner, the Dolphin, a handsome craft commanded by Capt. George Rice.

In the past three weeks the Dolphin has struck it rich and has landed some fine fares. She carries a crew of only four men and Capt. Rice claims that they are high line on share in that time, as each man has put to his credit in those three weeks the sum of $275.

And still more people say there is no money in pollock.

REACH NEW HOME PORT

Schs. Emma W. Brown and David Sherman Spoken Well Of.

Schs. David Sherman of this port and Emma W. Brown of Boston, which were recently bought by Newfoundland captains and sailed from this port a short time ago, have each arrived safely at their destinations after making fine passages. The Sherman will be used in the Labrador fishery this season and is now being fitted out at Harbor Buffet, while the other is being laden for a coastwise trip at Westerleyville, Bonavista Bay, N. F.

The local papers, in speaking of the crafts, have good words for them as being crafts of fine capacious hulls, showing substantial breadth of beam and clean, seaworthy taper to the stem—well found, practical vessels.

Big Pollock Trips.

The pollock steamers did well off here last night, some of them getting as high as 30,000 and 40,000 pounds in their hauls.

STOCKED OVER $9000.Big Work of Capt Joseph Smith in Sch. Grayling.*Other Crafts in Other Lines Have Been Making Good Trips.

Mackerel may come and mackerel may go but Capt. Joseph Smith always seems to be on the heads of them and when settling up time comes, this nestor of the mackerel fleet is always found right up in the front rank. Just how many years Capt. Joe has been doing this big stunt he is unable or don't like to remember, but his term of service in the seining fleet has been long and he does not begin to look or act his years, his eye being as keen and his step is elastic as lots of men many years his juniors.

Last year Capt. Smith kind of thought that he would retire from the cares and trials of seining after that season was over, but like every man who ever caught a mackerel, he began to get the fever early in the year and had soon shipped to command the good sch. Grayling.

Early, with the advance guard, he started for out south, and he stayed there until Monday, not even the doubtful but alluring charms of the Cape Shore being strong enough to woo him away from the southern schools. And he gained by it, too. He landed a number of trips at New York and every fare that he brought in he overrun his bill by several thousand fish, so that he was all the time rolling up a stock that only the wise ones were giving him credit for. On Monday the vessel came in to refit and give the men a chance to settle up and then start back as soon as possible. When they came to settle yesterday they found that there was coming to each man a share of $197.22 and that the net share on the trip clear of the market was $8031. This would mean a gross stock of over $9100, which is certainly credit to Capt. Smith, and gratifying to his army of friends who delight to see him do so well.

Sch. Cavalier, Capt. Robert B. Porper, stocked $4151.83 as the result of her recent halibut trip, the crew of 20 men sharing $94.63 each. This is a fine trip indeed, and right in keeping with Capt. Porper's style of fishing year after year. The vessel weighed off 49,000 pounds of halibut, beside having 20,000 pounds of salt cod.

Sch. Grace Darling, Capt. William Fisher, weighed off 62,000 pounds of salt cod as the result of her recent Rips trip, giving her the credit of having the largest trip at this style of fishing this season. On this big amount of fish the fine stock of $2170 was made and Capt. Fisher thinks the high line man will get $100 for his three weeks trip.

Sch. Theodore Roosevelt, Capt. James McHenry, stocked $3520 as the result of her recent halibut trip, the crew sharing $79.75. Capt. McHenry is one of the steady pluggers of the fleet who keeps right at it all the time and rolls up a good year's work.

The whole fare of sch. Monitor, Capt. John McKay, is not yet all out, but the craft weighed off 63,000 pounds of halibut and is taking out her salt fish and it is expected that her stock will be in the neighborhood of $4600.

ANOTHER HALIBUT TRIP IN.Sch. Atalanta Brings Nice Fare from the Gulf.

The fourth halibut fare today came just before 11 o'clock, when sch. Atalanta, Capt. Richard Wadding, shot up in the stream and dropped anchor. The craft has a nice trip, 30,000 pounds or more of halibut, 20,000 pounds of fresh cod and 15,000 pounds of salt cod.

FLEET FIND
MACKEREL*Sch. Lizzie M. Stanley at
Newport with 12,000*TWO FARES AT BLOCK ISLAND.*Sch. Mary E Harty Has $1100 Worth Large Ones at Newport.

A telephone message to Mr. Orlando Merchant this afternoon from Capt. Reuben Cameron of sch. Mary E. Harty apprised him of the welcome fact that the craft was at Newport, R. I., this noon and had landed $1100 worth of large fresh mackerel and that he was going right out again in a few moments.

Capt. Cameron reported that there were lots of small schools of large fish along Block Island and along down the back side of Long Island. Just as Capt. Cameron was telephoning, sch. Lizzie M. Stanley, Capt. Joshua W. Stanley, of this port, hauled into the fish dock there, with a dandy fare, the best for several weeks, Capt. Stanley hailing for 12,000 large fresh mackerel in count.

As Capt. Cameron was still at the phone he sent this gratifying bit of news along also, knowing that it, as well as word of his own trip and the fact about the schools and where they were, would be greatly appreciated by those who have vessels in the seining fleet and friends and relatives on board them.

Capt. Cameron did not say just how many fish he had in his own fare, but from the stock it is evident that it was somewhere in the neighborhood of 5000 or 6000 large mackerel.

Capt. Stanley must have struck a big school, or else he must have captured a succession of fair sized ones, for he has indeed a splendid trip.

Sch. Effie M. Prior was at Block Island yesterday with 40 barrels of large fresh mackerel and sch. Ralph L. Hall was also there at the same time with 2 barrels of large fresh mackerel.

Nova Scotia Fish Notes.

Capt. Maxner of the sch. Ellen M. Maxner, at Lunenburg, has not been able to secure a crew for a fishing trip and instead will load for the West Indies.

Porto Rico Fish Market.

A late report of the Porto Rico fish market says:

"Our markets have dropped to some extent, owing to large arrivals and poorer demand. The decline in values has been specially sharp on split herring, shipments of which we could not recommend at present. We quote net ex-wharf and rather nominal: Codfish, $6 to $6.25 per hundred pounds; pollock, $4.25 to $4.50 per hundred pounds; split herring, $4 to $4.25 per barrel."

CAPE SHORE IS DUMB.No Word of Mackerel Encouragement There.*Belief but Few of Seining Fleet
Are Still There.

There is still no good word from the Cape Shore. No American seiners are in at any of the Nova Scotia ports, nor have any been in there for several days. This can be taken to mean that they are having fine weather and are working on fish, or that they have got discouraged and gone to the southward. It is certain that a great many of them have made the latter move, although it is felt that some have remained behind hoping for the usual, though belated, Cape Shore spurt.

Large fresh mackerel sold at 23 1-2 cents each at Newport yesterday.

Sch. Helen G. Wells was at Newport yesterday with 45 barrels of large fresh mackerel.

The following netters were at Newport yesterday:

Sch. Fitz A. Oakes, 500 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Hockomock, 250 large fresh mackerel.

Sch. Jennie H. Gilbert, 1100 large fresh mackerel.

The steamer from Yarmouth, N. S., at Boston yesterday, brought 47 barrels of large fresh mackerel taken in the traps there.

The gasoline auxiliary sch. Elizabeth Silsbee was at Newport yesterday to repair some accident to her machinery and some of her crew seized the opportunity to run home here for a few hours.

Capt. William Price of the netter Manomet and some of his crew were home from Newport last night.

Capt. Elroy Prior, whose craft harbored at Block Island Monday, was home Monday night, returning Tuesday morning.

June 12.

TO MAGDALENS AGAIN.Sch. Alert Left North Sydney, C.
B., a Few Days Ago.*Interesting Case Which Will Be Watched with Interest

The Times learns through a Provincial letter, received in this city yesterday, that sch. Alert, Capt. Almon D. Malloch, of Boston, which reached North Sydney, C. B., last week from the Magdalen islands, claiming that he had been warned off and threatened with seizure by the cutter there if he attempted to catch herring there, has sailed from North Sydney and is bound back again to the Magdalens.

Just what Capt. Malloch has learned, or if he has learned anything new in the matter is not known. Whether he has taken out a Canadian license or will take one out when he gets there is problematical, but is not thought probable. It may be that Capt. Malloch is convinced of his rights under the Treaty of 1818 to catch his own herring there and that he may do so, despite threats and warnings.

There are those who believe that Capt. Malloch may have received instructions from Washington as to just how to act and has gone back to the Magdalens to act under these instructions. Whatever he may or may not have up his sleeve, the outcome of this second visit to the great herring islands will be watched with keen interest by the wholesaling interest.

WITH LARGE FARE.

Sch. Fannie A. Smith Home from Cape North Grounds.

Sch. Fannie A. Smith is known as one of the Georges halibuting fleet, but this time she went way down to the Cape North grounds, and this morning is home with a big fare, having 20,000 pounds of halibut, 30,000 pounds of salt cod and 35,000 pounds of fresh cod.
The Smith went out this time in charge of a new commander, Capt. Fred. Thompson, because her regular commander, Capt. Oscar Benson, who had been landed sick at Martha's Vineyard and taken to the hospital, had not yet recovered. Instead of going to Georges, Capt. Thompson decided to try the Cape North deal and certainly profited thereby, as he secured a big fare in a short time and has made a name for himself at the start.

A special to the Times this afternoon from its Newport correspondent reports the arrival there of sch. Nellie Dixon, Capt. James Ellis, of Boston, with a splendid fare of 13,000 large fresh mackerel in count. The trip was taken in one school and this is the largest single haul of big fish saved this season.

The despatch also states that the fare landed by sch. Lizzie M. Stanley yesterday was also taken in one school. The Stanley had 12,000 large mackerel.

Mackerel struck in at Dover, N. S., Sunday, and about 25 barrels were taken by the people there.

June 13.

STOCKED OVER 4600.

Capt. Jack McKay Driving Things in Sch. Monitor.

Sch. Frances P. Mosquita Stocks Well on Her Shack Trip.

Sch. Monitor, Capt. John McKay, weighed off 63,000 pounds of halibut and 20,000 pounds of salt cod as the result of her recent halibut trip, beside shipping about 11,000 pounds home from a Nova Scotia port a few weeks ago. On this fine trip the splendid stock of $4697.73 was made, the crew making a great share, $109 to a man.

Capt. McKay has been doing things up in great shape in the halibut line since he started in Capt. Jerome McDonald's vessels last fall, and all his many friends are hoping that he will keep up the fast gait he has struck and which he knew so well how to keep in days gone by. This is the second time since January came in that Capt. McKay's crew have shared over $100 on a halibut trip.

Sch. Preceptor, Capt. Forman Spinney, stocked $1855 on her recent halibut trip.

Sch. Francis P. Mesquita, Capt. Joseph P. Mesquita, stocked $2537 as the result of her big shack trip, the crew sharing $77. Capt. Mesquita and his men are delighted with their good fortune, this big trip coming so quickly after the ceremony of the captain's crowning at the Church of Our Lady of Good Voyage a short time ago.
